Change app language

In the web app, Bitwarden will default to your browser's language, which is often determined by your designated system language. The browser extension, mobile app, and desktop app will default directly to your system language. The language can be manually changed on the following Bitwarden clients:

Don't see your language?

If your language isn't listed in the web vault or desktop app, or if your browser extension or mobile app isn't dynamically using your language, we want your help!

Bitwarden uses a translation tool called Crowdin to manage our localization effort across many different languages (no programming knowledge required).
