Subject: Add passwords and usernames to Bitwarden (2/5)

Body:

Hi there,

Do you have passwords saved in a browser, like Chrome? Or are you coming to Bitwarden from another password manager? You can import logins directly to Bitwarden to avoid copy-and-pasting.

Another way is to directly add items into your vault.

Subject: Understand the power of collections (4/5)

Body:

Hi there,

Share items and logins with team members using collections, which are like shared folders to which you can assign access for other members or groups – they allow you to share items between yourself and your team members. Today, share a login with your team by adding it to a shared collection.
